

A STORY IN THREE PARTS.
(PART TWO)

Bryan Continues Aggressive Campaign

At the beginning of the Campaign a Pamphlet was issued by Mr. Bryan, announcing his views on public questions. Mr. Blount issued a similar pamphlet which has been followed up with innumerable advertisements, letters and circulars. Mr. Stockton, too, issued a "Declaration of Principles" and has otherwise advertised himself extensively. It behooves the voter to consider carefully what the candidates have to say, and in passing upon the qualifications of NATHAN P. BRYAN to note well—

THAT—
HE does not advocate a federal income tax, because Congress has already passed favorably upon that proposition, and as Senator he would have nothing to do with it.
HE does not promise to secure federal appropriations for hard roads in Florida, because it would be simply pure political buncombe.
HE does not devote 75 per cent of his literature and speeches to an effort to explain that he can represent the people's interests as well as the corporate interests.
HE does not apologize for any connection or affiliation, nor does he have to overcome any presumption that he will not represent the interests of the people as distinguished from the interests of the corporations.
HE does not admit that he is so prejudiced against one section of the state that he cannot represent equally as well all sections, whether it be Pensacola, Apalachicola, Cedar Keys, Tampa, Key West, Miami, New Smyrna, St. Augustine, Fernandina or Jacksonville.
HE does not feel it necessary to have letters written and circulated to the effect that he can be fair, that he is honest, and that he is the friend of the "tolling masses."
HE does not promise to reduce the high cost of living, unaided and alone, because he will be called upon to fulfill his promises.
HE does not promise to make it easy for poor people to borrow money from banks, because that is impossible of accomplishment by legislation.
HE does not promise to establish farming and industrial schools in the 2876 counties of the United States, but he does promise to work for the establishment of agricultural schools in each congressional district.
HE believes that United States senators should be elected by, and directly responsible to, the people.
HE believes in liberal appropriations for waterways, because they are nature's competitors of the railroads.
HE believes that hereafter no railroad company or private interest should be permitted to acquire wharves and docks to such an extent as to control or exclude general commerce.
HE believes with Judson Harmon and Woodrow Wilson that "guilt is personal" and that guilty corporation officials should be individually punished for crimes committed under cloak of corporate names.
HE believes in the physical value of railroads as a basis for freight and passenger rates.
HE believes that the Inter-State Commerce Commission should be given such judicial power as to enable it to enforce its orders.
HE is the candidate best qualified to initiate and secure legislation in the interest of the people of all sections and all classes.

HE IS ABLE IS PROGRESSIVE IS A REAL DEMOCRAT

He does not turn to the service of the people from 26 years of devotion to corporate interests. His mind does not run in a groove worn smooth by the habitual guarding of these interests. He is the man who will make the "Little Journey" to Washington.

NEGRO KILLS THREE, THEN BURNS THEM

Brutal Crime Near Durham,
North Carolina.

NEGRO HAS BEEN CAPTURED

Negro Said to Have Assaulted Little Girl, Killed Her Father and His Daughter, Then Set Fire to Their Home.

A series of the blackest crimes ever committed in North Carolina was unearthed at the home of J. L. Sanders in Granville county, when a supposed criminal assault on a young girl, a triple murder, and the destruction of the home of the victims, together with their bodies, were discovered by neighbors.

Nathan Montague, a negro, charged with the crimes, is lodged in the jail at Durham, after a long and exciting cross-country chase by the sheriff to escape a mob. Intense excitement prevails throughout the section of the Sanders home and in Durham as well, and trouble may develop any minute.

When neighbors, attracted by the sight of a burning house, rushed to the Sanders home a gruesome picture met their gaze. On the ground were traces of a struggle, parts of a girl's hair and clothing, and pools of blood. When the fire died down the charred bodies of Miss Mary Sanders, her father, J. L. Sanders, and his 12-year-old granddaughter were found in the embers.

Nearly was a bloody knife, the instrument of crime, and a neighbor instantly recognized it as one he had seen Montague helping kill hogs with the day before. He conveyed it at once to the sheriff and when the latter arrived at Montague's home he found the negro trembling and spattered with blood with hair sticking in it.

Keeping the presence of the negro a secret in Granville county, the sheriff rushed with him at once to Durham.

ATHENS CHOSEN BY FARMERS.

As General Headquarters for the Agricultural Federation.

The general headquarters of the Federated Agricultural Association of Georgia were fixed at Athens in the concluding session of the farmers' meeting held in Macon. State Entomologist W. L. Worsham at the morning session thoroughly discussed the boll weevil, and he presented his subject in splendid manner.

Professor A. G. Soule presided during the day until President Scott, of Forsyth, was introduced. The latter was enthusiastic in his talk.

The educational traits to be sent out in charge of Dr. Soule was endorsed by the body. The next session will be held in Athens January 17 and 18 when more will be accomplished toward enlisting all agricultural organizations in the movement for the good of the farmer.

WOMAN TOO MODEST.

Chooses Death Rather Than Exhibit Nether Limbs.

Because she was too modest to allow the fastening of a tourniquet about her leg, Helen Gershen died at St. Vincent's hospital, New York.

Miss Gershen accidentally stabbed herself in her left leg with a pair of scissors while at work in a clothing factory. Her fellow employees rushed to her assistance, but she refused to permit anybody to bind the wound. She soon fainted from loss of blood and was hurried to the hospital. It was too late, however, to save her life, although the house surgeon said she would have recovered had a tourniquet been applied immediately.

REPORT ON LORIMER.

Chairman Burrows Says It Will Comply With Sub-Committee Views.

Senator Burrows, chairman of the senate committee on privileges and elections, has been authorized to prepare a report on the investigation of charges of bribery which were filed in connection with the election of Senator William Lorimer, of Illinois.

He announced that the report would be in compliance with the views expressed in the report of the sub-committee, but did not pass upon the truth or falsity of evidence of individual witnesses. Senator Burrows added that he did not think that there would be a minority report from the committee but that the report when presented would be accompanied by individual statements of members of the committee.

TOBACCO GROWERS PLAN POOL.

Burley Growers of Four States Hold Meeting in Lexington, Ky.

The first definite steps were taken in Lexington toward the organization of growers of burley tobacco in this and adjoining states with a view to either rehabilitation of the 1910 pool or the elimination of the 1911 crop.

The call for the meeting of growers was signed by more than sixty men who have heretofore been independent, and the gathering included many also who were identified with the recently collapsed pool of 1909-10.

The burley growers of West Virginia, southern Indiana and southern Ohio were represented in addition to the burley growing belt of Kentucky.

"Yes; her work aids me immensely."

"I don't believe I have ever seen any of her writings."

BROTHERS HAVE A FATAL DIFFICULTY

Duel to the Death Over Gray Mule.

SHOCKING ALABAMA TRAGEDY

John and Will Benefield Quarreled Over Mule—White Benefield Tried to Make Peace in Vain, and Then Shooting Began.

As the result of a quarrel over the ownership of a small gray mule, Will Benefield, John Benefield and White Benefield, brothers and well-to-do farmers, who reside near Hopewell, Ala., just across the Georgia line, engaged in a duel with revolvers and all three were killed.

During the fight, the mule, which was the innocent cause of the fight, was also killed.

It seems that the mule was in the possession of John Benefield, but Will Benefield claimed to be the owner, and had demanded the return of the animal. John Benefield refused to surrender the mule, alleging that his brother's claim was unjust.

A bitter quarrel between Will and John Benefield followed, and White Benefield, the older brother, tried to act as peacemaker and have the ownership of the mule submitted to arbitration.

John Benefield was willing, but Will Benefield said the mule was his property and he intended to have the animal.

Will Benefield tried to lead the mule away, and was warned to stop by his brother John. There was another exchange of bitter words, and then both John and Will Benefield drew their revolvers and began firing at each other at close range. Both men emptied their revolvers, every shot taking effect.

When the smoke cleared away, John and Will Benefield and the mule were dead, and White Benefield, who had tried to stop the quarrel, was dying. He lived only a few minutes.

All three brothers were prominent in their section, and each of them leaves a wife and children.

While the dispute over the mule was the immediate cause of the tragedy, it is said that the real bitterness between John and Will Benefield was due to an alleged insult which Will Benefield is said to have offered John's wife.

HEAVY VERDICT.

Pennsylvania Roads and Steel Co. Convicted on Rebating Charge.

The United States district court at Philadelphia has refused to grant a new trial to the Philadelphia and Reading railway, the Lehigh Valley railroad and the Bethlehem Steel Company, recently convicted on charges of rebating.

There are a large number of counts in the indictments against the three companies, and if the maximum penalty were imposed against each defendant, the Bethlehem Steel Company would have to pay a fine of $3,200,000, the Lehigh Valley railroad $2,500,000 and the Reading railway $1,740,000.

The jury, in rendering its verdict of guilty, however, recommended the companies to the mercy of the court.

ROCKEFELLER'S DONATION.

Billionaire Completes Rich Gifts to Chicago University.

John D. Rockefeller has completed the task he set for himself in the founding of the University of Chicago. The public announcement was made of a "single and final" $10,000,000, which includes all the contributions that Mr. Rockefeller had planned to make to the university. This sum, which is to be paid in ten annual installments, beginning January 1, will make a total of approximately $35,000,000 that Mr. Rockefeller has given to the university.

Mr. Rockefeller says he now believes the school should be supported and enlarged by the gifts of many rather than those of a single donor.

REMARKABLE GIRL.

Deaf, Dumb, Blind, She Performs Wonders.

A bill will be presented to the next Wisconsin legislature asking for an appropriation of $1,000 a year to further the education of V. A. Mabel Gammon, 16 years old, who has been unable to speak, hear or see since her birth. Miss Gammon has been in the Paribault school only three years, yet she writes on the typewriter with skill, has a vocabulary of 3,000 words, and recently wrote an essay of 5,000 words. She makes her own clothes, threading her own needles, and is skilled in fancy work.

FOUND $4,000.

New Jersey Woman Lifts Boards and Discovers Hidden Treasure.

No one in New Jersey has found house cleaning more profitable than has Miss Ida Simonson, who got $4,000 as the result of her annual overhauling of her homestead in Vernon, N. J.

While cleaning a closet she lifted a loose board in the floor and brought to light the treasure, $500 in gold and the remainder in bills of large denomination. The money was probably put there about 40 years ago by a relative who died soon after hiding it.

Her Status.

"Oh, that my son should wish to marry an actress!" shrieked the proud patrician mother.

"Now, ma, don't take on so," be-seeched the undutiful heir. "She isn't really an actress; she only thinks she is."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Thanksgiving.

The first national Thanksgiving may be said to have been the one offered up at St. Paul's cathedral, London, for the defeat of the Spanish armada, September, 1588. The English settlers in this country naturally adopted the custom of their native land, and at an early period in our colonial history Thanksgiving became quite common. The institution may be said to be the natural outgrowth of human nature and has probably existed in some form or other from the earliest times.—Exchange.

The quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger from pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all dealers.

Natural Gas.

The natural gas of Pennsylvania is odorless. Its presence cannot be detected by smell. That is the explanation of many of the disastrous explosions which occur. The gradual leakage from a natural gas pipe may fill a cellar or a room. This leakage may occur directly from the pipe or the gas may travel some distance through a sewer pipe. Then when a light is brought into the cellar or room a terrific explosion occurs, often destroying the building and sometimes tearing up the street in front.—Philadelphia North American.

Kabyle Rugs.

With what greed does the lover of beautiful weavings handle the cream white fabric, with its blue, jewel-like, intricate border, or the all over figured rug, indigo blue figures with but little white showing, the blue interspersed with bits of fine red and yellow, so small in quantity as compared to the blue that it only serves to warm and mellow it, but seen near one finds that there are innumerable tiny patterns in color running through the blue, which sparkle as do the red and blue lights in the black opal.—Handicraft.
